DEADLY RAILROAD COLLISION.

New Horror Added to the Chapter of Accidents.

TWENTY-FIVE PERSONS KILLED

Instantly and a Dozen or More Injured, Some Fatally—Cars Caught Fire—Names of the Dead.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW CASTLE, Col., Sept. 10.—A terrible headend collision occurred here this morning between the Denver and Rio Grande passenger train and a freight train of the Colorado Midland division.

The latest information gives twenty-five as instantly killed and a dozen or more injured, half of whom will die.
The cars caught fire after the crash
and several persons, who were pinned fast in the wreckage and unable to extricate themselves, were burned to death.

Among the dead and missing are
A. Hartman, wife and two children, of Harshar, Illinois; Ostrander, the engineer of the freight, and Suttleff, fireman of the freight. The wreck occurred on the Rio Grande Junction road. From New Castle to Grand Junction the line belongs jointly to the Denver, Rio Grande and Colorado
Midland railway, being jointly used by both. Two cars of stock were completely demolished and the tracks strewn with dead stock and debris.

Conductor Burbanks' explanation is that in looking at passenger time for leaving as printed on the card he looked in the wrong column of figures.

Two Italians were caught in the act of robbing a trunk and were placed under arrest. Doctors and medical comforts have arrived.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

The strikers of Camp Isolation, at

through the line and were arrested and brought here.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Octavia F.
Devarre, formerly Mary Anderson,

She adds that her only effort in this direction will be to sing one evening in a small village for charity.

COTTON REPORTS TODAY.

Drought Playing Havoc—August Has Marked a Decline Everywhere.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The returns of the cotton crop since September 1 indicate the average. There is a decline compared with August 1st of from 6 to 8 points, owing to the drought so long prevalent throughout the greater part of the cotton belt, followed in many important sections by excessive rains, which have done great damage to the crop.

There has been a marked decline in almost all the principal states of the cotton producing section. The decline has been as follows:

Georgia, 15 points; Oklahoma a rise of 13 points; Texas, Alabama and South Carolina, 8 points; Tennessee, 7; Mississippi, 4; North Carolina, 2; the only exception to the decline is Oklahoma, where the crops show improvement, standing at 96.

Rust and shedding is reported from hundreds of counties. The statement,
"no top crop," is very frequent. The following is the average by states:

Virginia, 90; North Carolina, 95;
South Carolina, 84; Georgia, 80; Florida, 86; Alabama, 80; Mississippi, 81;
Louisiana, 78; Texas, 70; Arkansas,
77; Missouri, 81; Indian Territory, 93;
Oklahoma, 95.

THE NEW CUBAN TARIFF.

Schedule Not Yet Completed—Increase of Articles of Luxury.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, Sept. 10.—The official Gazette has not yet completed the publication of all the schedules of the new Cuban tariff. The reduction of duty on American goods is considerable,
with the exception of the duty on crude petroleum which remains unchanged.
The duty on articles of luxury has been slightly increased.

Hanged Himself in Danville.

DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 9.—R. T.
Bray was found dead in his room today, hanging by a rope attached to a transom. The body had evidently been hanging there since Monday last. Bray was formerly a professor in the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas. He had been living in Danville about a year and had been unfortunate in business. His family—wife and one child—were out of the city at the time. It was a clear case of suicide.

The deceased was a cousin of C. A.
Bray, of Greensboro, and A. B. Bray, of Danville.

POINTS FROM HIGH POINT.

Personal and Local Affairs Briefly
Mentioned.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 10, '97.

The Board of Aldermen met in called session last night. There was no business of special importance transacted. The secretary has not as yet heard from the General Electric Co. regarding the dynamo.

There seemed to be more interest manifested at the series of meetings conducted at the warehouse last night
than at any service since the meeting commenced. The people are apparently in earnest and much good may yet be the result.

A. V. Sapp, of the firm of A. V.
Sapp & Co., returned from New York
this morning where he has purchased his fall and winter stock.

Messrs. D. J. Hill and O. E. Mendenhall, of Lexington, are in the city attending the meetings.

J. M. Millikan, of Asheboro, is in the city today.

J. S. McAllister, of Asheboro, is registered at the Bellevue Hotel today.

J. S. Spencer went up to Greensboro
this morning to meet Miss Lady Spencer, who has been visiting relatives in the eastern part of the state for several weeks. They will return this afternoon.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Whitt Stone Has His Foot Badly
Mashed in a Press.

Whitt Stone, a nephew of Joseph J.
Stone, who is employed in Stone's printing office, suffered a painful and serious accident shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. He was feeding a large Gordon job press, and, having a long run to make, was sitting on a stool
while feeding the press.

His right foot was resting on a cross piece of the press, and in leaning back on the stool preparatory to stopping the press, he pushed his foot too far in the press, when it was caught by the bottom of what is known as the platen, which mashed his foot almost into a jelly. The foot was mashed just above the joints of his toes,
breaking four of them.

Whitt was wearing an apron at the time, which became caught in the press, holding him until the press made another impression and mashed his foot the second time.

Drs. Brooks and Turner were called in immediately and rendered medical aid. Whitt was put under the influence of chloroform, and the wound dressed, after which he was placed in a hack and taken to his home on West Market Street. The wound is a serious one and is causing him excruciating pain. The doctors have been with him all the afternoon, and it is probable that a part of his foot will have to be amputated.

OUTWITTED THE HUNTERS.

But a Colored Boy and a Mangy Cur
Capture the Varmint.

For quite a while a fox has been making his home in south Greensboro, committing various depredations.
Several efforts have been made to capture the varmint, some of our best hunters taking their blooded fox hounds out, but Reynard was always too sly for them.

His capture had been given up, and it seemed that he was to be given the right of way over things in his territory.

But the fox has come to an untimely end, and through no fault of the hunters either.
Early this morning a colored boy took a mangy cur and captured the sly varmint out near the old graveyard. The boy was highly elated over his luck and bore his slain victim up street with as great pride as if it had been a Bengal tiger captured in the jungles of India.

Held Up and Robbed.

A man at the Southern depot this morning said that he was held up and robbed on Walker avenue last night.
He was an elderly gentleman, and said
his home was at Connelly Springs.

According to his statement, he was going up to Rev. R. R. Moore's, when he was met by a negro man who commanded him to "hold and deliver." He held up his hands while the negro went through his pockets, taking all the money he had. We did not learn the amount.

The man said the robber was a bright mulatto. The case was reported to the police and unless the fellow has left town he will probably be captured.

In the Clerk's Office.

E. R. Tucker yesterday qualified before Clerk of Court Ragan as administrator of the estate of Miss Callie Tucker, deceased. Miss Tucker had quite a snug little sum invested in building and loan stock.

Dr. W. H. and Thomas Wakefield qualified as administrators of the estate of Henry Wakefield, deceased.
This estate is worth about $3,000.

W. E. Bevell administered on the estate of Miss Lina Porter, who recently died in South Carolina. Her will was probated in South Carolina and sent here and recorded.

W. D. Trotter is the administrator of Henry Watkins' estate. Watkins was a colored man and left a small estate.

"THEY ARE AFTER HIM."

To Capture Him is Every One's Desire,

FOR THE MURDER OF J. C. PITTS.

Several Important Clues Have Already Been Discovered by the Police—He Will be Captured.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

SUMMITT, N. J., Sept. 10.—Up to this morning the police have not succeeded in capturing the man who murdered James C. Pitts, an aged resident of this place, last night. The murderer also nearly killed an eighty-year old house keeper.

The police have already found several important clues to the perpetrators of the crime. It is confidently expected that the murderer will be under arrest before tomorrow night.

million bushels for exportation.

A NEW PRODUCT.

The offer of the Birmingham iron and steel men to furnish armor plate to the United States, at a figure rejected by northern plate makers, calls attention to the fact that year by year the South must be reckoned with more and more in all departments of manufacturing. She is ceasing to be simply a grower of raw material; she is beginning to be a worker with head as well as hands; she is learning to risk and to achieve, to understand her own power, to find herself.

A very interesting study would be the evolution of the southern business man. He is a new product, a late development; he still has much to learn but he is learning; he is becoming a factor in the commercial world; he can no longer be ignored. Formerly he went north or west to engage in business; now he stays in the South.

Here and there cities like Atlanta and Birmingham have sprung up. They have become the preceptors of smaller towns and cities throughout the South. The current is not setting so strongly northward as formerly. Gradually enterprises that mark the beginnings of commercial processes are starting up on the main lines of railways and are drawing to themselves trade that formerly went to northern cities. The inroad is small as yet, but let it be remembered that the capital at command is small, and then, too, the time has been brief. As a people we have been compelled first to accumulate capital by the old processes and then learn the new processes in which this capital is to be used. Both have together required time, but it has been time well spent.

It should never be forgotten that commercial growth is a cumulative process; it goes by the same rules as compound interest. The capital invested increases, leaving a larger surplus each year to be invested in the same or similar enterprises. Even this, however, is not the most important phase of the expansion: it is that a larger number of men are taught the details of the business, whatever it may be. If it is a small cotton factory the old employees become so familiarized with the process of manufacturing cotton goods that they are fitted to take places as foremen in new mills and teach the processes to others. In the offices of men, who are themselves good business men, young men are being trained to become managers of independent enterprises.

We have thus been supplying ourselves with the elements out of which our future commerce is to be wrought. We have been engaged in the creation of a new class, the class that turns out finished products from raw materials and then markets them. Twenty years ago there was in the south no such class; its growth has kept pace with the growth of capital.

It will be seen, therefore, that we are no longer a people divisible into two classes—agriculturalists and professional men. There is another distinct body, the men who deal with materials as they come from the hands of the agriculturalists.

This new class is a creator of wealth; therein lies its great advantage to the south. Hitherto the farmer has been the sole creator of wealth—now we have two wealth producers instead of one. Neither the professional man nor the retailer added anything to the aggregate wealth of the section. They were necessities, of course, but the new class, while not a necessity, is a maker of wealth.

Thus the south finds herself today possessed of untold resources still in a crude state; she has developed, and is developing, a class of men who understand how to utilize these resources; she has also accumulated some capital which these men may use in the process, and which the process will itself increase.

And so we say that the south must be reckoned with in future; that she is finding herself.

WE TRUST that when the historian comes to write the political history that North Carolina is now making he will get a jug of this new fangled invisible ink, that can be seen only when heated, and crawl into the refrigerator to prosecute his labors. Thus shall he become entitled to two whole chapters of eulogy in his own book.

MR HANNA will hardly sleep the sounder for Senator Foraker's declaration that Ohio is sure to go Republican. He may regard it as the opinion of a rank outsider.

A GLANCE at Elm street will convince the most skeptical that the gas company is leaving no stone unturned in its efforts to give us light.

A PEOPLE that has survived the yellow kid for over a year need have small fear of the yellow fever bacillus.

LUETGERT made a fatal mistake when he failed to remember that hairpins are practically indestructible.

Guilford College Cullings.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, Sept. 10. Football seems to take all the spare time of the students at present. Every evening may be seen on the athletic field quite a number of candidates for the football team chasing the "pig-skin." Mr. Whitaker, captain of the University football of '96, has been here training the team. Some very promising material is being developed. President Hobbs gave a very interesting lecture on "The Study of Language." It was much enjoyed by all present.

Miss Gertrude Mendenhall, of the N. & L. College, who has been here during the summer, left for a few days' visit to Lenoir Saturday.

Guilford has become a very desirable place for evening drives from Greensboro. Every evening some of the young people of Greensboro may be seen on the campus.

T. Gilbert Pearson, '97, who has been visiting in Michigan during the summer, returned to the college Monday for a few days' stay among his old friends, after which he leaves for the university which he enters.

Sanitary inspector Brunner, at Havana, reports that persons in Havana who are anxious to come to the United States make misleading statements in order to get certificates from the sanitary inspector.

Trinity College Notes.

TRINITY COLLEGE, Sept. 9. Trinity opened with chapel exercises yesterday morning at 8:35, conducted by Rev. Mr. Scroggys of Salisbury. The opening this year has been very gratifying, there being over one hundred boys at the opening services. The new boys are by far in the majority at present; most of the old boys are expected back today and tomorrow. Fourteen young ladies have entered Trinity from different parts of the State. The outlook at present is brighter than any previous year at Durham.

Many improvements have been made on the campus and buildings during the summer. Large porches have been added to the faculty houses that did not have them before. The Washington Duke building has greatly improved. The foundation of the woman's building has been laid and it is rapidly moving upward.

Yesterday was entrance examination day. Recitation work begins today. With a well equipped faculty and large number of students, this year bids fair to be the best in the history of the college.

NEGRO'S WORST FOE.

CONSUMPTION AND KINDRED DISEASES KILL MANY COLORED PEOPLE.

Statistics That Show the Principal Causes of the High Death Rate—Afro-Americans Peculiarly Susceptible to Pulmonary Complaints.

The last census is hopelessly inaccurate in the matter of a correct enumeration of the population. While it gives something like 7,000,000 Afro-Americans, the opinion is that the number is nearer 10,000,000.

Until very recently we were quite in ignorance of how these 7,000,000 Afro-Americans live, what they do, their health conditions, and the like. There was much wild speculation, but no trustworthy data upon which to base conclusions. This is no longer true. The experiment stations of the United States department of agriculture are informing us in bulletins, regularly issued, of the kind, quality and amount of food Afro-Americans consume in the rural districts of the south. The Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore has had investigated their farm holdings and mortgage indebtedness, the Atlanta university is conducting a systematic investigation into their social and physical condition in the cities, and the Hampton and Tuskegee conferences, held annually, throw a flood of light on the subject by giving the farmers themselves an opportunity to testify as to their condition and prospects. The federal department of labor is also taking a hand in the matter and has issued several helpful bulletins.

With all these agents actively at work gathering the facts and putting them into handy reference form, we shall soon know vastly more about the Afro-Americans of the southern cities and rural districts than we do about the white population of the same section—indeed, that is almost the case now.

Atlanta university has issued a pamphlet embodying the proceedings of the second conference for the study of problems concerning negro city life, dealing especially with the social and physical condition of negroes in cities. The statistics gathered in this publication and the opinions and conclusions advanced have the merit of having been gathered and put forward by Afro-American graduates of Atlanta university and other Afro-American schools of higher learning. The nature, scope and thoroughness with which the work was performed are worthy of notice here.

In the course of these manifold investigations it has been discovered and pointed out that the negro has much to fear from the death rate and the diseases producing it.

L. M. Henshaw of Washington has collated and analyzed the vital statistics of Atlanta, Baltimore, Charleston, Memphis and Richmond. Mr. Henshaw finds that in the five cities covered by his investigations the excessive mortality of Afro-Americans was due to pulmonary, scrofulous and infantile diseases. He says that these principal causes of excessive mortality are identical in all the large cities. He therefore makes the following table for Charleston, Memphis and Richmond combined and gives the average death rate per 10,000 for a period of 15 years, from 1881 to 1895:

Consumption and pneumonia.	White.	Color'd.	Color'd.
1881-5	32.78	75.48	130.4
1886-90	20.16	26.22	80.0
1891-5	14.87	39.43	105.1
Scrofula, etc.	.81	4.72	482.7

The two principal causes of death, as shown in this table and in all others contained in the report, are consumption and pneumonia, while the waste of child life on the part of both races, it is shown, is simply appalling. That consumption has already become the worst enemy of the Afro-American race is shown by the following tables, showing the death rate per 10,000 for the five cities under consideration:

ATLANTA.	Per cent excess of
1881-5	White. Color'd. color'd.
1886-90	18.40 50.30 172.81
1891-5	18.88 45.88 143.65
1896-00	16.82 48.48 158.50
BALTIMORE.	Per cent excess of
1881-5	25.65 58.65 128.65
1886-90	22.28 55.42 140.30
1891-5	20.00 46.32 131.00
1896-00	20.10 40.41 145.82
CHARLESTON.	Per cent excess of
1881-5	27.52 72.20 162.85
1886-90	20.45 58.08 228.55
1891-5	17.71 57.06 225.68
MEMPHIS.	Per cent excess of
1881-5	34.25 65.35 100.80
1886-90	24.50 50.30 107.08
1891-5	15.30 37.78 187.61
RICHMOND.	Per cent excess of
1881-5	25.67 54.08 114.82
1886-90	21.27 41.03 95.72
1891-5	18.54 34.74 87.08

Mr. Henshaw, in commenting on these tables, says, "It is to be seen that in all of the cities the death rate for consumption is high among the colored people, the lowest rate being 34.74 per 10,000 in Richmond and the highest 72.20, in Charleston."

There is reason for great concern and anxiety as to the excessive prevalence of this disease among the colored people. Unless checked and reduced to a normal state it may, in the course of years, be a deciding factor in the ultimate fate of the race. The prevalence of tubercular and scrofulous diseases—consumption, scrofula and leprosy—has caused the weaker races of the earth to succumb before the rising tide of Christian civilization.—T. Thomas Fortune in New York Sun.

Dog Kills a Shark.

Thousands of bathers and strollers on the board walk at Atlantic City witnessed a battle between a setter dog and a shark over four feet in length. The dog was swimming just beyond the breakers when he was attacked by the shark. The dog soon became the aggressor, and little by little he gained the ascendancy. He killed the shark and dragged it ashore. Then he trotted away.

The Right Spirit.

When J. M. Hendrix was preparing to put the new front in the store occupied by the Greensboro Hardware Co. he decided to patronize a home enterprise, and gave the order for the brick to D. A. Kirkpatrick. As a result he has as nice a front as if he had ordered pressed brick from Richmond, Baltimore or elsewhere.

At the same time by patronizing home people and a home enterprise money that would otherwise have gone elsewhere has been kept at home. This is the spirit that should be manifested by all our people who have the well-being of our city at heart.

It Will Be Grand.

The Eagle Dramatic Club is preparing to give a performance in the Academy of Music, September 20th, for the benefit of the Eagle Hose Company. Our people know what to expect when it is announced that the Eagle Dramatic Club will give a performance.

It is the purpose of those who have the matter in charge to give something entirely different from anything that has ever been presented before a Greensboro audience.

The first regular rehearsal will be held in the Academy of Music tonight.

Fleeing Tonight.

It was stated in yesterday evening's paper that the literary and social meeting of the Centenary church Epworth League would be held at E. E. Bain's tonight. This was a mistake on the part of our informant. The meeting will be held at the residence of Rev. J. E. Gay, on East McCulloch street this evening at 8:30 p. m. The members are earnestly requested to be present. An enjoyable evening is promised.

Still Coming.

The G. F. C. girls are still coming in, and the old college will soon be full. Quite a number came in on the trains last night, while several arrived today.

The Greensboro Sash and Blind Company present a new ad. for perusal today.

N. J. McDuffie is building a new fire proof storage warehouse in the rear of his furniture store. It is 44 by 110 feet and will be a great convenience in Mr. McDuffie's large business.

S. E. Hudson, the progressive grocer of 513 South Elm street, beyond the railroad, is having the front and inside of the store painted in handsome style, keeping in touch with that thriving part of the city.

The new brick store, which is being built by Professor Parker, of G. F. C., for Mr. Woodard, to be used as a hardware store on South Elm between Vuncannon's grocery and the Groom building, is progressing rapidly.

The third game for the tennis championship in doubles was played at the club grounds yesterday between Stephen A. and R. D. Douglas on one side and Lee Wharton and Hal Mebane on the other, and resulted in a score of 5-7, 6-4, 0-6 in favor of the latter.

Fine Opening at Trinity College.

Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, who was in Durham at the opening of Trinity College, tells us that it is the grandest opening in the history of the institution. There were more present the first day than matriculated during the whole of last year, seven-five new students having registered. For the first time all the rooms in the college inn are occupied.

It is said that quite a number of young ladies will attend Trinity this year, the college now being open to women. This is a new departure in North Carolina, and one that will probably prove beneficial and popular, in this instance at least.

No Connection.

Our telegraph news service yesterday told of the assignment of George W. Silsby & Co., stock brokers of Washington city. This firm was not connected in any way with the firm of H. W. Silsby & Co., who have a branch office in this city.

The firm names being so near alike it is liable to cause confusion in the minds of some, hence we gladly make this statement. The firm of H. W. Silsby & Co. is a strong one, and doing a good business.
